MARCH 11
2022

THE OFFICIAL BI-WEEKLY NEWSLETTER OF THE CITY OF MILPITAS

MESSAGE FROM CITY MANAGER STEVEN G. MCHARRIS

Women's History Month is dedicated to reflect the significant contributions of women to United States history. The observance grew out of a weeklong celebration of women's roles in advancing culture, history and society organized by the school district of Sonoma, California in 1978. Presentations were given in schools and hundreds of students participated in a "Real Woman" essay contest. A parade was also held in downtown Santa Rosa. In 1980, President Jimmy Carter issued the first presidential proclamation declaring the week of March 8 as National Women's History Week. The U.S. Congress followed suit the next year, passing a resolution establishing a national celebration. Six years later, the National Women's History Project successfully petitioned Congress to expand the event to the entire month of March.

As we reflect on the meaning of Women's History Month, let us join in the celebration of empowering the women in our lives. The month-long remembrance honors the various influences and achievements of women throughout history. Some of these influences include social, economic and political achievements. Without their contributions, communities and families wouldn't be nearly as strong. Although we made some inroads, there are still many places around the world where women continue to suffer the injustice of being treated as second-class citizens. In other countries, women are not given the same educational and occupational opportunities as their male counterparts. They are denied a say in how they are governed, prohibited from fully participating in society and fear gender-based violence.

Women account for 39 percent of the City's workforce. This is very much congruent with the World Bank's 2020 labor report indicating a 38.8% female global workforce representation. Forty-three percent of the City's Executive Leadership Team is also comprised of women leaders in charge of addressing current and future community needs. The City of Milpitas is very honored to have three female members of the Council – Vice Mayor Carmen Montano, Councilmember Karina Dominguez, and Councilmember Evelyn Chua – who are all at the forefront of breaking barriers and leading differently amidst unprecedented challenges of our times.

We have made progress but have the opportunity to become even better. We need to continue raising our voices for women's rights and gender equality. This way we can help spread awareness and look forward to a world in which all women and girls are allowed to reach their full potential.
